Privacy, Data and Cybersecurity

In an era where technology is rapidly changing, privacy and security concerns are even more pervasive. Katten's Privacy, Data and Cybersecurity practice attorneys offer diverse industry experience and practical solutions to address heightened risks and complex legal and regulatory obligations. We understand the benefits and potential challenges associated with the collection, use and disclosure of personal information, and provide clients with strategic advice to achieve their business needs, while resolving or preventing potential legal, business and reputational risks. Katten advises on the development of global data protection programs and counsels on privacy and security law and compliance, as well as how those laws apply to data use and information sharing.

Privacy compliance and advisory services

With the evolving legal and regulatory landscape, companies are faced with a multitude of new compliance obligations. We closely monitor emerging and proposed data protection laws and regulations. Our team can help you navigate through the patchwork of often inconsistent data protection standards and requirements. From privacy and security related program development, due diligence for mergers and acquisitions and other strategic transactions, to incident response management – we can help you prepare for the range of scenarios and issues.

US and international privacy and security law counsel

Our counsel to Fortune 500, midsized and emerging companies covers the full range of privacy, data and cybersecurity issues. We advise clients on all aspects of compliance with local, state and federal laws governing privacy and security, including such federal laws as:

- Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA)
- Controlling the Assault of Non-Solicited Pornography and Marketing Act of 2003 (CAN-SPAM)
- Electronic Communications Privacy Act (ECPA)
- Federal Trade Commission enforcement
- Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA)
