Robert Solano helps administrative agents, financial institutions, borrowers and private equity sponsors navigate through the intricacies of private credit transactions, including secured and unsecured financings, leveraged buyouts and cross-border transactions. His practical approach to deals has earned him the trust of both lenders and borrowers. Having worked in-house previously, he understands the business demands at play and the importance of consistency, reliability and keeping deals on schedule, especially when there are tight deadlines.

Pragmatic Approach to Balancing Legal and Business Needs

Rob represents clients in the health care, technology, oil and gas, manufacturing and financial service industries. He has previously worked as an in-house counsel and a company vice president, which has given him valuable insight into the legal and business needs of his clients. His aim is to reduce risks while ensuring that his clients' requirements are met when closing deals.
