Nabintou Doumbia focuses her practice on securities litigation. Prior to joining Katten, she was a litigation associate at a large law firm in New York where she served diverse clients ranging from software and technological companies, life insurance companies, real estate investment firms, estates and family trusts, and more. She works tirelessly to grapple with complex facts, understand the law, and serve as a committed team member to deliver desired results.

Advocacy rooted in a strong understanding of the facts and the law

With a keen eye for detail coupled with a bird's-eye-view approach, Nabintou is a diligent researcher who does not lose sight of the bigger picture. Her experience includes independently drafting sections of motions to dismiss and reply briefs for securities class actions, legal argument sections of oppositions to summary judgment, interrogatories' responses, answers to counterclaims, and more.

She is a collaborative team player and organic leader. As a former submissions lead for the Georgetown Immigration Law Review, she oversaw a team of reviewers for scholarly submissions to the journal.
