Lauren Wyler provides the perfect blend of large firm deal experience and an in-house client perspective when advising on commercial real estate matters. She helps large scale institutional lenders and borrowers navigate complex deals in a dynamic real estate environment. Lauren also advises landlords and tenants on sophisticated office leases, as well as owners and buyers of real property.

Focused deal counsel with a client-centered approach

Leveraging a deep background as corporate counsel, Lauren understands her clients' legal needs and business priorities. She takes a holistic approach to deals as a skilled practitioner with experience handling real estate transactions and financings on mortgage originations, conduit deals and construction loans. She is skilled handling matters involving the acquisition, sale and leasing of commercial properties.

As senior in-house counsel, Lauren worked with a global financial institution shepherding large syndicated loan transactions and corporate spin-offs.

Lauren is active in her community, having served as president of the Junior League of Central Westchester and as a regular volunteer and supporter of a home for teens who lack resources and family support.
