John Sun represents a broad range of clients in securities and financing transactions, including asset-backed secured lending, purchase and sale of whole loans, warehouse facilities and public and private offerings of securities backed by residential mortgages and automobile receivables.

Securing financing to support business growth

John represents financial institutions in different types of financing transactions that are backed by pools of assets, including residential mortgages and automobile receivables. He helps companies secure financing using these assets so they can continue to run their businesses. John understands his clients' needs and helps ensure that the transactions close on time.

John has experience in mortgage originations, so he has a deeper understanding of the issues and risks involved with mortgage assets.
