

Initiating Women's Initiatives

Published in Minorities and Women in Business (MWIB)

February/March 2007

The purpose of a women's initiative is to provide a forum to voice concerns to management and devise solutions to issues that have an impact on the retention, development and advancement of women in the company. This article outlines steps to creating a successful women's initiative.