Kristen Froese is an associate in the Real Estate practice. She is dedicated to providing sophisticated and concrete solutions to clients in the process of purchasing, selling, leasing and financing commercial properties.

Committed to a client-focused approach

Kristen is committed to understanding each client's unique business goals and strategy in order to know how best to deal with the legal issues that arise in each complex real estate transaction.

In addition to her commercial real estate work, Kristen maintains an active and dedicated pro bono practice where she represents community and philanthropic organizations in real estate matters.

During law school, Kristen served as symposium editor of the Journal of Law and Social Policy and represented clients as a student member in the Children and Family Justice Center.
