Anthony Del Rio advises providers, payors, and other health care and life sciences entities on transactional, regulatory, restructuring and enforcement issues. Anthony's comprehensive understanding of the health care industry, combined with a strategic approach to legal challenges, has made him a trusted advisor to leading health care organizations and investors, ensuring successful outcomes in a dynamic and highly regulated environment.

First-hand health care industry knowledge

Anthony understands his clients' business goals, having served as the president of a clinically integrated network comprising an academic medical center, community hospitals and 2,300 providers. He genuinely recognizes the challenges his clients face when it comes to efforts to expand a company's reach and profitability. He also draws on his experience as senior counsel to a large health system when helping them navigate transactional and regulatory matters.

Health care providers and investors turn to Anthony for strategic guidance on high-stakes transactions involving specialty medical practices, hospitals, and health systems. He is a trusted advisor to private equity and venture capital firms, portfolio companies, independent physician practices, and health systems, providing practical solutions for complex deals — including mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, and strategic partnerships — with particular insight into valuation, structuring, financing, and integration. Anthony devotes a significant portion of his practice to regulatory matters, helping clients navigate federal and state fraud and abuse laws, antitrust concerns, and compliance obligations under the Anti-Kickback Statute, Stark Law, and False Claims Act. He also counsels on issues related to the corporate practice of medicine, offering clarity in a highly nuanced legal landscape.

Anthony also advises health care providers, data platforms and digital health companies on the rapidly evolving legal landscape surrounding artificial intelligence and health data. He counsels clients on structuring data driven collaborations, navigating HIPAA and state privacy laws, designing compliant AI development and deployment frameworks, and
