Nico Colombo works with financial institutions, trade creditors and other stakeholders in insolvency and restructuring matters to assist clients in protecting their interests. Representing secured and unsecured creditors, corporate debtors and large financial institutions, Nico brings a detail-oriented and analytical approach to complex Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings, workouts and related litigation to achieve practical solutions that help clients navigate financial distress and achieve favorable outcomes.

Committed to protecting client interests with precision and discipline

Drawing on eight years of active military service, Nico brings discipline, determination and a strong sense of duty to every client matter. While in law school, he honed his advocacy skills through mock trial competitions and earned multiple CALI Excellence Awards in subjects including Property, Legal Writing, Privacy, Bankruptcy and Trial Advocacy. This foundation sharpened his ability to analyze complex legal and financial issues with precision and clarity. Nico is detail oriented and client focused, committed to helping creditors, debtors and other stakeholders navigate insolvency and restructuring challenges with confidence. His blend of practical problem solving, rigorous preparation, and dedication to client service positions him as a trusted advocate in high-stakes matters.
