Caitlyn Jensen strives to assist individuals and families in creating personalized estate plans and wealth transfer strategies to help protect their assets and plan for the future. She brings a thoughtful, detail-oriented approach and a strong commitment to supporting clients' long-term goals.

A detail-oriented approach that delivers clear guidance and tailored strategies

Caitlyn brings a strong foundation in tax law, built through a combination of tax courses and seminars, as well as hands-on experience with the Washington University Low-Income Taxpayer Clinic. Her attention to detail ensures that every strategy is carefully crafted to meet each client's unique goals and circumstances. Caitlyn is skilled at explaining complex legal concepts clearly and accessibly, helping clients feel confident and informed throughout the process.

During law school, Caitlyn served on the Washington University Law Review Board in both her 2L and 3L years, honing her analytical and writing skills. These experiences, combined with her commitment to client service, position her to deliver thoughtful, reliable and well-informed guidance to clients in all aspects of private wealth planning.
