Jonathan Baker focuses his practice on Financial Markets and Funds matters.

Strategy-driven counsel for markets that never stand still

Jonathan believes that exceptional legal counsel is not just about knowing the law; it's about anticipating where markets, regulations and bespoke deal structures are heading before they get there, so his clients are always a step ahead. Prior to joining Katten, he worked at an international law firm, advising clients across a broad range of matters with a focus on fund formation, mergers and acquisitions (M&A) and capital markets. That experience shaped Jonathan's meticulous, client-first approach, one he brings to every engagement. He is deeply detail-oriented and passionate about equipping his clients with cutting-edge, market-leading tools to navigate the most complex challenges they face.
