

International Technology Law Association 2016 European Conference

November 9–11, 2016

Doron Goldstein, co-head of the Privacy, Data and Cybersecurity practice, will present "Pokémon Go: An Augmented Reality Case Study" during the International Technology Law Association 2016 European Conference at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, November 11. The session will discuss how augmented reality (AR) has seen the rise of many legal issues ranging from concept of space, to security, to data protection and how apps, games and other applications of AR may challenge legal regimes across the globe.
