

Mandel Legal Aid Clinic's 50th Anniversary Symposium "Out of the Shadow: Clinical Legal Education"

Presented by the Arthur Kane Center for Clinical Legal Education at The University of Chicago Law School

February 23, 2008

Partner Jonathan Baum will serve as a panelist at Mandel Legal Aid Clinic's 50th Anniversary Symposium "Out of the Shadow: Clinical Legal Education" on Saturday, February 23 from 8:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

The Symposium will include the following discussions:

- Signature and Shadow Pedagogies: Coexistence or Collaboration?
A discussion of the historical pedagogies of academic and clinical programs, their strengths and weaknesses and implications for the legal profession.
- Creating Lawyers: How'd You Do That?
This panel will explore assessing the "success" of clinical programs and articulating professional and social values inherent in such programs.
- The First Fifty Years are the Hardest: Defining Future Models.
The recommendations of Educating Lawyers: Preparation for the Profession of Law (the Carnegie Report) and Best Practices for Legal Education will serve as starting points to discuss new clinical strategies and methods.
