Valuing Technology Companies: A Guide for Buyers and Sellers

April 6, 2006

Partner Eric Klein will be on a panel and the Firm is a sponsor of this event presented by the Software Council of Southern California. The event will be attended by CEOs, COOs, CFOs and stockholders who have a vested interest in the value of a technology company. It features experts and technology executives who will explain how to understand a company's value drivers and determine its value. The goal is to provide an overview of the rationale and tools needed to estimate a company's value.

Cost: Software Council Members - $35.00; Non-members - $60.00. To register, click here.
