

Stanford Renas Talks Solar and PACE Securitization Trends With GlobalCapital

June 30, 2020

In a recent interview with GlobalCapital, Structured Finance and Securitization partner Stanford Renas shared his thoughts on how interest remains high for solar and Property Assessed Clean Energy (PACE) securitizations, despite the global COVID-19 pandemic. Stan noted that the pandemic has resulted in a temporary market slowdown. He stated, “Residential solar is a door to door business, where you are trying to sign consumers up to retrofit solar panels on their roofs. With social distancing and stay at home orders, we just can't do that. That will cause a slowdown in the short term, but I think we already hit the tipping point where people really see a green economy as the way of the future.” (“Virus brings new opportunities for PACE, solar ABS,” June 3, 2020)
