

Katten Attorneys Karen Artz Ash and Kristin Achterhof Named to Managing Intellectual Property's "IP Stars - Top 250 Women in IP"

October 13, 2013

Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP is pleased to announce that Karen Artz Ash and Kristin J. Achterhof are listed in Managing Intellectual Property's inaugural "IP Stars - Top 250 Women in IP." Karen, who is national co-head of Katten's Intellectual Property (IP) practice and co-head of the firm's Trademarks practice, was included among the list's top 10 attorneys. Katten was one of only a few law firms with more than one lawyer selected for inclusion.

Karen was named to the list based on her prominence in the fashion and other industries, and as a result of overwhelming praise by clients and other top lawyers. Kristin was recognized for her role in managing the extensive and valuable trademark portfolio of, and her in-house and outside counsel roles at, one of the world's largest telecommunications companies, and for her litigation victories on behalf of several companies throughout the past year.

"We are very proud that Managing Intellectual Property has recognized Karen and Kristin for their significant work," said Floyd A. Mandell, national co-head of Katten's IP practice and co-head of the firm's Trademarks practice.

The nominated partners appearing in Managing Intellectual Property's "Top 250 Women in IP" were chosen based upon the rankings of the 2013 edition of "IP Stars," researched between June 2012 and April 2013. That research included thousands of interviews and surveys by IP partners and law firms across the United States. The most prominent female attorneys from that process make up the "Top 250 Women in IP."
