SEC Risk Alert on the Advisers Act Marketing Rule

By Richard Marshall

On December 16, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) published a risk alert on the adviser marketing rule. This is the first risk alert published by the SEC in over a year. It "addresses observations regarding advisers' satisfaction of disclosure requirements and oversight and compliance practices under the Testimonials and Endorsements Provisions, as well as advisers' due diligence and disclosure requirements under the Third-Party Ratings Provisions." Stay tuned for Katten's detailed summary of this important risk alert, coming soon.

Speech by Director of Division of Investment Management Signals Key Priorities

By Richard Marshall

On December 2, Brian Daly, the new Director of the Division of Investment Management for the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), delivered an important speech on his priorities. The speech began by noting that he is dedicated to listening to the industry, stating that he is "deeply interested in what the industry has to say, how investors feel, and how the public perceives our proposals." Read about the Division's four priorities.

SEC Extends Relief Allowing Brokers to Rely on Advisers for AML Compliance

By Richard Marshall

Earlier this year, the US Department of the Treasury's Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) adopted rules imposing anti-money laundering obligations on advisers and proposed additional rules that would mandate further anti-money laundering obligations on advisers. The compliance date for the previously adopted rule has been recently extended, as has consideration of the proposed amendments. Read about the SEC's related no-action relief to brokers.

New SEC Cybersecurity Rules Begin to Take Effect

By Richard Marshall

On May 16, 2024, the SEC unanimously approved amendments to Regulation S-P, which imposes new rules relating to cybersecurity breaches involving investment advisers and broker-dealers. Larger entities must comply with the new rules by December 3, 2025, while smaller entities must comply by June 3, 2026. The amendments to Regulation S-P added requirements compelling covered institutions to adopt written policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to detect, respond to, and recover from unauthorized access to or use of customer nonpublic personal information. GENIUS ACT – Banking Regulators Prepare to Publish Proposed Rules

By Carl Kennedy, Daniel Davis, Christina Grigorian, Michael Didiuk, Alexander Kim

As disclosed by recent comments during Congressional hearings, publication of proposed regulations by the federal financial regulators (including the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the National Credit Union Administration) implementing the Guiding and Establishing National Innovation for US Stablecoins Act (the GENIUS Act) is expected before December 31, 2025. Consistent Definitions, Less Confusion: CFTC Divisions Streamline and Harmonize Cross-Border Swap Compliance

By Carl Kennedy, Daniel Davis, Carolyn Jackson

The US Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC or Commission) has taken a significant step toward regulatory clarity and harmonization in the cross-border swaps market. The CFTC's Market Participants Division (MPD), Division of Clearing and Risk (DCR) and Division of Market Oversight (DMO, collectively with MPD and DCR, the Divisions) jointly issued No-Action Letter 25-42 (Letter 25-42) on December 9, which addresses longstanding inconsistencies in the definitions of "U.S. person" and "Guarantee" under the CFTC's Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act's (the Dodd-Frank Act) cross-border swap framework. All's Well That Ends Well: The CFTC Amends Its Wells Notice Process and Other Rules of Practice for the Better

By Carl Kennedy, Matthew Kluchenek, Zachary Schmitz

For years, the CFTC has exercised broad discretion in investigating and prosecuting potential violations of the law, with its sanctions and penalties infrequently subject to challenge. The industry has long criticized this process as being opaque and lacking fairness. Joining the chorus of critics, CFTC Acting Chairman Caroline D. Pham has been vocal about her objections to the Commission's prior enforcement practices, emphasizing the need for higher standards of integrity, diligence and excellence in enforcement actions to maintain public trust. State-Level Digital Asset Licensing: What to Watch as We Head Into 2026

By Carl Kennedy, Daniel Davis, Michael Didiuk, Alexander Kim

California, Louisiana, and Illinois have established comprehensive crypto licensing frameworks that mirror New York's BitLicense regime. With multiple rulemaking processes now established or soon-to-be adopted and critical compliance deadlines approaching in 2026 and 2027, firms that provide digital asset services to residents in these states should carefully evaluate whether their activities trigger compliance obligations and, to the extent that they do, begin preparations for applying for licenses and building comprehensive compliance programs well in advance of the statutory deadlines. European Commission Announces Legislative Package to Advance EU Financial Market Integration

By Christopher Collins, Carolyn Jackson, Nathaniel Lalone, Neil Robson

On December 4, the European Commission (EC) released a comprehensive package of measures aimed at removing barriers and enhancing the integration, efficiency, and competitiveness of European Union (EU) financial markets. This initiative is a key element of the Savings and Investments Union (SIU) strategy, intended to establish a genuinely integrated single market for financial services. The NSI Act

By Edward Tran, Oliver Williams

Published by the International Accountant, the article examines the UK's National Security and Investment Act 2021, which grants the government the authority to review and intervene in acquisitions of control over UK entities and assets — regardless of deal value or investor nationality — particularly in sensitive sectors such as artificial intelligence (AI), defense, energy and data infrastructure. It outlines mandatory and voluntary notification triggers, review timelines, potential civil/criminal penalties (including void transactions and fines up to the higher of £10 million or 5 percent of global turnover), and the government's call-in, information-gathering and remedial powers.
