Josh Feiger helps companies and individuals buy, sell and invest in businesses. Josh successfully guides clients through mergers, acquisitions, dispositions, equity financings, and other strategic transactions in an efficient and effective manner.

A client-focused approach

Josh has vast experience representing public and private companies through complex transactions. Josh also advises clients regarding general corporate matters, and has represented clients across a variety of industries, including liquor, manufacturing, business services, health care, financial services, and technology. Josh takes a practical and efficient approach to his practice, focusing on specific client needs for each unique situation. He helps clients understand the business and legal risks associated with any issue that may arise in the course of a complex transaction and works collaboratively to achieve optimal results.

Josh has represented private equity firms, family offices, independent sponsors, entrepreneurs, investors and public companies. His experience enables him to help clients navigate the complexities of M&A transactions and matters related thereto.

Josh began his career in the Chicago office of an international law firm.
