Firm is among three firms named in North America Private Client Team Category

NEW YORK – Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP is pleased to announce that its National Trusts and Estates Practice has been named among three finalists by the Society of Trusts and Estates Practitioners (STEP) for its annual STEP Private Client Awards. The Firm was nominated in the North America Private Client Team category of the awards, presented each year by the prestigious, London-based international trusts and estates organization. The winners will be announced at a black-tie awards ceremony on September 13 in London.

The STEP Private Client Awards highlight excellence among private client solicitors and attorneys, accountants, barristers, bankers and trust managers. Those who service the industry, such as publishers and investment managers, are also recognized for their contributions to the profession.

“The STEP awards celebrate excellence in practice and the high status private client work richly deserves,” said Andrew Young, Chairman of STEP the judging panel. “Everyone on the shortlist should be proud.”

In addition to serving as chair of its National Trusts and Estates Practice, Katten's Joshua S. Rubenstein was selected earlier this year to serve as a judge on STEP's panel of experts for this year's awards. Mr. Rubenstein absented himself from judging the category in which Katten is nominated.
