EBA Clarifies Measures to Mitigate the Impact of the COVID-19 Pandemic on the EU Banking Sector

The European Banking Authority ("EBA") clarified its expectations in relation to dividend and remuneration policies, provided additional guidance on how to use flexibility in supervisory reporting and recalled the necessary measures to prevent money laundering and terrorist financing ("ML/TF"). The EBA also advised institutions to refrain from distributing dividends or making share buybacks and separately requested that national competent authorities of the various EU Member States offer flexibility on reporting and Pillar 3 disclosure dates. Finally, the EBA called on regulators to support financial institutions' ongoing ML/TF prevention efforts by sharing information on emerging risks, setting clear regulatory expectations and using supervisory tools flexibly.

ECB Banking Supervision Provides Temporary Capital and Operational Relief in Reaction to the COVID-19 Pandemic

Principally, the ECB's relief permits banks to fully use capital and liquidity buffers, including operating temporarily below the level of capital required under Pillar 2 Guidance, the capital conservation buffer and the liquidity coverage ratio. Banks will also be permitted, temporarily, to partially use certain otherwise non-qualifying capital instruments to meet their Pillar 2 capital requirements. Finally, the ECB intends to adopt certain operational flexibility in implanting bank-specific supervisory measures.
